Haste not—let no thoughtless deed Mar for e'er the spirit's speed; Ponder well and know the right, Onward then, with all thy might; Haste not—years can ne'er atone For one reckless action done.

Rest not-life is sweeping by. Do and DAKE before you die; Something might; and sublime Leave behind to conquer time; Glorious 'tis to live for aye When these forms have passed away! Haste not! rest not! calmly wait, Meakly bear the storms of fate; Duty be thy polar guide— Do the right whate'er betide! Haste not—rest not—conflicts past, God shall crown thy work at last The Heraid of Freedom.

The Pacific Railread Route. A California correspondent of the St Louis Republican writes in reference to under date of July 15, as follows : That the Central is the route to the Paeisic is a question which does not now, in my opinion, admit of a doubt, and this, too, without detracting from the merits of any of the other lines, being much shorter and passing over a better watered and grazing country than any of its rivals. It only needs energy upon the part of the contractors, and some lit the encouragement from the Government, to demonstrate the fact of what I have asserted. Capt. Simpson, of the topographical engineers, Camp Floyd, has recently made an exploration and survey, which will reduce the distance between Salt Lake City and Placerville more than 250 miles. Major Chorpening, the enterprising contractor on this division, is putting his coaches through now in from nine to eleven days, and more than half this time is consumed in laying up at the stations over night. The trip over the present route can be made in six days, and by Capt. Simpson's new route in much less time, while the time made east of the Rocky Mountains is ordinarily run in from sixteen to eighteen days without any fort, and can of course be greatly reduced. In other words, St. iis and San Francisco can be brought within fourteen days of each other. This certainly is a "consummation most devoutly to be wished for," and that it will be done is as sure as fate. In view, then, of this great object, it is earnestly to be hoped that it will be saved from the "entangling alliances" and heavy friendships of political intriguers and schemers, "Central," spoken of in the foregoing is of course understood to be the Salt Lake Mail route from St. Joseph to Great Salt Lake City, and thence via Placerville, Cal., to the Pacific coast. The southern route will probably prove impracticable, while the emigration to the gold regions, to Utah, and to the Pacific coast would furnish a lucrative business to the road. By the refusal to annex southern Nebraska, only about sixty miles of the trunk road will run through Kansas.

sary to have some place of confinement for criminals; and as a substitute for a and a long iron chain fastened to it, and when a poor fellow commits a crime, and the sentence is imprisonment, he is fastened to this chain by the ankle, and there remains night and day; but if his crime is light, and he has previously borne a good character, the judge, in his mercy, often allows him to carry an umbrella to protect him from the rain and storm.

Unsuccessful in this Life, confess that increasing years bring MILLINERY AND DRESSMAKING! with them an increasing respect for those who do not succeed in life, as those words are commonly used. Heaven is said to be a place for those who have not succeeded upon earth; and it is surely true that celestial graces do not best thrive and bloom in the hot blaze of worldly prosperity. Ill success sometimes rises from superabundance of qualities in themselves good—from a conscience too sensitive, a taste too fastidious, a self-forget-fulness too romantic, a modesty too retiring. I will not go so far as to say, with a living poet, that "the world knows nothing of its greatest men," but there are forms of greatness, or at least excellence, that die and make no sign; there are martyrs that miss the palm, but not the stake; there are heroes without the laurel, and conquerors without the laurel, and conquerors without the triumph.

Read the following testimony:

GEO. W. GOODRICH, Esq., Attorney and General Land Agent, now of Granby, Newton county, Mo., but at that time a resident of Neosho Valley, K. T., writes as follows:

"I am more than ever of the opinion that no other one medicine so completely meets the wants of our people as your pills. Last fall, in this region, but one person in my knowledge escaped the Ague. Many had it all through the winter, and continued to have it this spring. I sold eight bottles, all for the treatment of these almost chronic cases, and, it has given in every case the most perfect satisfaction; and I believe the first dose has in every instance stopped the disease.

Of these eight cases, permit me to give you the facts with regard to two of them; The first was that of a girl of fifteen years, who had the Ague badly all last fall—had remittent fever and dumb ague mearly all winter; and to this was superadded monthly irregularity. Knowing this, I harsly ventured to recommend the pills as I would in ordinary cases, but to my great astonishment and gratification, the first dose stopped the fever, (remittent) and I supposed the other difficulty has also been removed, as the roses on her before faded checks seem to indicate fine health, which etherwise would hardly be the case.

The other case is that of a roung mar living in health, which etherwise would hardly be the case.

The othercase is that of a young max living in the same family. He had the Fever and Ague badly, all last fall and winter—so be informs me; the first dose of the pills stopped it, and he has not lost an hour from his work since hedgan to take it. He has been splitting rails, hauling themout, and building fence ever since, and makes a first-rate hand at this laborious business. He noweays that ten dollars would be a small price for the benefit he has received "

April 26th, 1828. GEO. W. GOODRICH.

Westfort. Mo., Jan. 20th, 1857.

We consider the prospect for the sale of your medicine here very flattering, and we shall, doubtless, be able to dispose of much larger quantity the coming season. We have not heard of a single case of failure. In Inct, it has nearly thrown out of market every other preparation for the cure of Fever and Ague.
